JOB BOARDS

Ever feel like someone's just feeding you a line?

We'll let you in on a secret...

Over 85% of all legal jobs are not advertised. Recruiters don't know about them. Job boards don't have them. But they are out there, waiting to be found.

The single most effective way to find new opportunities is to personally contact every employer meeting your interests. Don't wait for someone else to introduce you to your dream job – go out and take it! Undermarketing yourself is the most expensive mistake you can make.

With a dedicated professional staff and a database that includes precise, up-to-the-minute contact information on over 500,000 hiring organizations, Legal Authority gives you the power to reach every legal employer you could ever want to work for.

At Legal Authority, we help hundreds of law students and attorneys find jobs every week. Our success is proven. And in today's job market, success is the bottom line.
